MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director, Intelligence Community Staff

FROM:

STAT

SUBJECT: Brochure for 1986 DCI Exceptional Intelligence Analyst
Program (EIAP)

1. Action Requested: Approval of the attached draft of the 1986 EIAP brochure. A 1985 brochure is also attached to serve as a basis for comparison.

2. Background. The brochure is to serve as a primary mode of informing the Intelligence Community about the 1986 EIAP program. It needs to be distributed no later than mid-summer in order to allow potential participants sufficient time to submit applications by mid-December.

3. Proposed changes to be incorporated in the 1986 brochure include:

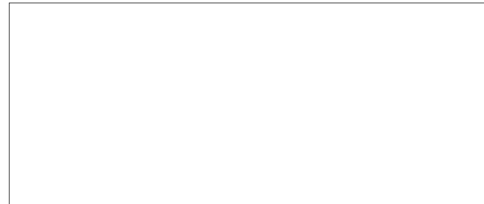

- A cover that includes the shields of all the Intelligence Community members to emphasize that the program is a "Community" activity. Last year, some potential participants did not apply because they or their supervisors perceived it to be a CIA program.
- The incorporation of the requirements for the "less-than-one-year" program.
- An increase in the maximum number of selectees from 20 to 25 in order to accommodate the "less-than-one-year" program.
- A change in the selection criteria to give more weight to applications "addressing an issue currently of major interest to the Intelligence Community".
- A more definitive statement (in the Appendix) concerning the participant's obligation to remain in the intelligence field a minimum of two years. The caveat, "unless otherwise assigned by the sponsoring agency" is necessary because the services often need to assign intelligence officers to a tour in non-intelligence positions.

Program (EIAP)

- A requirement that the applicant's sponsoring agency provide a statement indicating its future career plans for the applicant. Hopefully, this will help insure that the program is integral to career development and not just a nice sabbatical.
